

Listen to Ramana on Podcast Episode 3

Have you been on the spiritual path, reading self-help books, listening to gurus and taking workshops for these many years since we left the Father Knows Best world to find inner peace? I did all of that and more, where my house has been a hot spot for gatherings of all sorts to help us along the way.

Ramana got introduced to Los Angeles in my living room more than 20 years ago as a messenger sent by Papaji, the disciple of the great Indian master, Ramana Maharshi. I'd already been steeped in the non-dual awareness that god is within all of us, but what's special about Ramana's work is his Radical Awakening process: "Never take another workshop to find yourself again." What a relief it was when he tapped me as being there, and now I'm like Pavlov's dog – I tap myself and go to that timeless place where the universe and I are one.

Beautiful & Inspiring

I just listened to the first episode and loved it so much that I immediately listened to the second one. Suzanne is a great interviewer and has truly interesting guests. I can't wait for more to get released.

Beautiful—like everything Suzanne Taylor does

Suzanne's love for humanity and desire to make a difference are made real through this beautiful podcast. If you believe in that quote, "Be the change you want to see in the world," listening to this will help facilitate that.

Power of Forgiveness

For forty years I've been listening to the stories of the fascinating people Suzanne has collected in her passionate quest for spritual wisdom. None can match the dpth or power of Mary Reed's testament of transformation and her dedication to live it.
