Greetings!

It warms my heart to pass along my newest blog post, featuring Brian Swimme. Brian is Director of the Center for the Story of the Universe and a professor at the California Institute of Integral Studies in San Francisco, where he teaches evolutionary cosmology and philosophy to graduate students. He lectures widely and has presented at many conferences. He co-wrote and hosted the 60-minute film, Journey of the Universe, broadcast on PBS television stations nationwide.

Brian inspires everyone with the majesty of the universe and the privilege of being part of it. He has been my main philosophical squeeze since the late 80s when I read The Universe is a Green Dragon, his “cosmic creation story.”

He came to L.A. a few weeks ago to give a keynote address and to be on a panel at an event leading up to the 2018 Global Parliament of the World's Religions. Check out the videos, below.

I hosted Brian at my house for brunch with a few good friends who each read a favorite passage from The Universe is a Green Dragon to spark conversation. (If you're someone I spend time with you no doubt have one of the 1,000+ copies I've given out!) Here are excerpts.
